MARYLAND MEDIA INFORMATION

For interviews with University of Maryland coaches players or staff members contact Shawn Nestor, associate director of media relations or Doug Dull, associate athletics director of media relations. Media relations assistant Dan Reisig will also accompany the team.

Practice times and information are below and the guidelines are similar to the Terrapins regular-season media opportunities. All practices are closed, with media availability immediately following most sessions. The team will practice on Thunder Field which is located adjacent to Florida Citrus Bowl Stadium.

During bowl week, any interviews that take place outside of the normal practice and press conference setting must be arranged through the media relations staff. Player interviews should not be conducted at the team hotel or any other site without consent of the media relations staff.

THE GAME

- The University of Maryland plays Purdue University on Friday, Dec. 29 in the 2006 Champs Sports Bowl in Orlando, Fla. The game will be televised live nationally in prime time on ESPN and broadcast on the Terrapin Sports Radio Network (105.7 FM and 1300 AM Baltimore; 630 AM Washington, D.C.) . Maryland will be making its 4th bowl trip in the six seasons that Ralph Friedgen has returned as head coach at his alma mater.
- Maryland (8-4, 5-3) comes into the bowl game after dropping its final game of the regular season, 38-24, to Wake Forest. Despite a 119-yard rushing effort by Keon Lattimore, the Terrapins could not recover from deficits of 21-7 and 28-14 in losing to a Wake Forest team that went on to win the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and its requisite trip to the Orange Bowl.
- Maryland finished in a second-place tie in the Atlantic Division standings with a 5-3 league mark. The Terrapins tied with Clemson and Boston College just one game behind Wake Forest, which finished at 6-2. The Terrapins posted a five-game winning streak in the middle of the season to post its fourth season with at least eight wins in Ralph Friedgen's six years as head coach at Maryland. A victory in the Champs Sports Bowl would give Maryland only the 13th nine-win season in 114 years of football at the university.
- Purdue (8-5, 5-3) tied for fourth in the Big Ten Conference and closed its regular season with a 42-35 defeat at Hawai'i. In a fourth-quarter shootout that saw the two teams combine for 43 points in the final period alone, the Rainbows scored on two touchdown passes in the final 4:48 to erase a 35-27 Purdue lead and earn the victory. Purdue won three straight games in early November to earn the eight-win season, winning at Michigan State and at Illinois before beating Indiana at home to post a 5-3 mark in the Big Ten.
- The Terrapins are seeking their third straight bowl victory, an accomplishment that has never occurred at Maryland. The Terps defeated West Virginia, 41-7, on 1/1/2004 in the Gator Bowl in their most recent bowl appearance, and that followed a 30-3 triumph over Tennessee on 12/31/2002 in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.
- Maryland accomplished its eight-win season against one of the toughest schedules in the nation. The Terrapins played eight teams this season that have earned berths in bowl games.
- Neither Maryland or Purdue is ranked in any of the three major polls coming into bowl season.

SERIES NOTES: TERPS VS. BOILERMAKERS

- Purdue and Maryland have never met on the football field.
- Maryland's last bowl game against a team from the Big Ten Conference was in 1977 when the Terrapins defeated Minnesota, 17-7 in the Hall of Fame Bowl in Birmingham, Ala.
- Maryland has played twice previously in bowl games held in Orlando, Fla. The Terrapins lost to Florida, 35-20, on 12/20/1980 in the Tangerine Bowl and dropped a 30-23 matchup to Tennessee on 12/17/1983 in the Citrus Bowl.

TERPS BY THE NUMBERS

0

Punts blocked by Maryland opponents since 1999, the longest streak in the nation after Georgia had a punt blocked recently by Ole Miss.

12

ALL ABOUT PURDUE

SCOUTING THE BOILERMAKERS

- A talented and prolific offense helped Purdue achieve another outstanding season in 2006. The Boilermakers finished 8-5 overall and tied for fourth place in the Big Ten Conference at 5-3. Purdue started with four straight victories this season, went 1-4 in a stretch between 9/30 and 10/28, but finished the Big Ten schedule with three straight wins to hit the eight-win mark.
- Purdue's passing offense ranks 6th in the nation at 293.7 yards per game, a figure that led the Big Ten. The Boilermakers also led the Big Ten in total offense at 425.8 yards per game.
- Spearheading the passing attack is junior QB Curtis Painter, who was 6th individually in Division I-A in total offense. Painter threw for 3,721 yards and 21 touchdowns this season. In 13 games, he was 292-for-494 (59.1 completion percentage), an average of 38 pass attempts per game.
- The Boilermakers feature a balanced attack offensively, though, as their rushing game is also successful. Junior RB Kory Sheets had 769 yards and 11 touchdowns on the ground this season, finishing 9th in the Big Ten at 59.2 ypg. His running mate, sophomore Jaycen Taylor, added 658 yards on the ground and had an impressive 6.1 per carry average.
- Purdue scored 23 touchdowns rushing and 23 touchdowns passing in 2006.
- Painter's top targets include junior WR Dorien Bryant, who led the league in receptions per game and receiving yards per game. He had 79 catches for 967 yards. Senior TE Dustin Keller is also a prime target with 55 catches for 751 yards, and sophomore WR Greg Orton had 50 catches for 695 yards.
- Defensively, Purdue is led by junior LB Dan Bick, who topped the team with 92 tackles. Senior DE Anthony Spencer ended the season with an amazing 26.5 tackles for loss, including 10.5 quarterback sacks. Junior SS Justin Scott had a team-high 3 interceptions for the Boilermakers, who forced opponents into 17 fumbles lost this year.

WHAT IS A BOILERMAKER?

A boilermaker is a trained craftsman who produces steel fabrications from plates and sections. The name originated from craftsmen who would fabricate boilers, but they may work on projects as diverse as bridges to blast furnaces. A boilermaker is also the mascot of Purdue University located in West Lafayette, Indiana. (Source: Dictionary.com)

QUICK HITS: WEEK 12

- Maryland suffered its second straight loss to end the regular season at 8-4. The Terrapins finished the game with a season-high 376 yards in total offense, including 194 yards on the ground to post the second-best team rushing total of the year (213 vs. William & Mary).
- TB Keon Lattimore made the most of his starting role, rushing for career highs in yards (119) and carries (23). He accounted for all 49 yards on the Terps' eight-play, 49-yard drive in the middle of the third quarter.
- Lattimore and TB Lance Ball each scored a rushing touchdown in the game. It was the third time this season that Maryland's tandem of tailbacks had scored at least one TD on the ground in the same game.
- Ball had 64 yards rushing in the game and moved up two spots to 14th on the Terps' career list. He finished the regular season with a team best 717 yards.
- PK Dan Ennis hit his only field goal of the game, a 26-yarder midway through the third quarter. It was his 12th straight successful attempt - a span covering six games.
- The Terrapins announced a sellout crowd at Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium, with the attendance of 51,500 being 20th on the all-time list of single-game attendance at Maryland.
- Maryland honored 13 seniors who were appearing at Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium for the final time in their careers: 33-Josh Allen, 95-Conrad Bolston, 41-T.D. Callahan, 22-Dan Ennis, 70-Stephon Heyer, 14-Sam Hollenbach, 54-David Holloway, 7-J.P. Humber, 36-Adam Podlesh, 88-Greg Powell, 11-Drew Weatherly, 4-Josh Wilson, 12-Marcus Wimbush. This group of seniors heads into the 2006 Champs Sports Bowl with a four-year record of 28-19 and a five-year mark of 39-22.

OF COMEBACKS

- Maryland's 20-point comeback at Virginia created a scramble through the record books to find the following nuggets:
- Head coach Ralph Friedgen was the offensive coordinator on 11/10/1984 when Maryland recovered from a 31-0 halftime deficit at Miami to score a 42-40 triumph.
- The last time Maryland came from 20 points down to win a game was on 11/20/1993 at Wake Forest. The Demon Deacons scored the first 23 points of the game before Maryland rallied to take a 33-32 victory.
- Before the win at Virginia, Maryland had earned two 14-point comebacks during Friedgen's tenure as head coach. Maryland trailed 21-7 at Wake Forest on 11/29/2003 before winning 41-28. Also, the Terrapins trailed 21-7 against NC State on 11/9/2003 before rallying for a 24-21 victory.

Keon Lattimore's 56-yard touchdown run gave Maryland the lead for good en route to its 28-26 come-from-behind win at Virginia

OF DRAMA

- Maryland won five straight games (Oct. 24-Nov. 11) by a combined total of 13 points. Each game featured some fourth-quarter drama and kept Terrapin fans on the edge of their seats:
- After losing their ACC opener, 27-23, at Georgia Tech, Maryland trailed 20-0 at Virginia (10/14) when the teams broke for halftime. The Terrapins got a 56-yard TD by Keon Lattimore and a 45-yard interception return by Erin Henderson in a run of 28 unanswered points over a stretch of 6:11. Virginia pulled within 28-26 with a touchdown with 2:37 to play, but Josh Wilson tipped away the Cavaliers' two-point conversion attempt.
- Maryland used two turnovers by NC State to earn a 20-0 lead early on 10/21, then held on for a 28-26 Homecoming win over the Wolfpack. NC State pulled within two points with a touchdown with 58 seconds left, but the Terrapins covered an onside-kick attempt to pull out the win.
- Sam Hollenbach threw three TD passes en route to a 27-14 lead in the third quarter on 10/28 against Florida State. The Seminoles closed to within 27-24 with 8:49 left on a 24-yard field goal by Gary Cismesia. Lining up for a potential game-tying field goal from 46 yards out, DE Jeremy Navarre broke through the middle to block the kick and give Maryland the win.
- The fourth field goal of the day by Clemson's Jad Dean gave the Tigers a 12-10 lead over the Terps with 2:25 left on 11/4. But Sam Hollenbach went 5-for-5 on a game-winning drive that set up a 31-yard field goal by Dan Ennis as time ran out, giving the Terrapins a 13-12 road victory.

- Maryland took an early 14-0 lead against Miami (11/11), but held on for a 14-13 win. Trey Covington had an interception at the Maryland 32 with 3:08 to play and Isaiah Gardner forced a fumble on a Miami punt-return attempt with 1.14 remaining to preserve the win.

TERPS OWN NATION'S LONGEST STREAK

- In special teams coach Ray Rychleski's six years, Maryland has had two punters (Brooks Barnard and Adam Podlesh), two long snappers (Jon Condo and Andrew Schmitt) and zero blocked punts.
- The Terrapins' streak without a blocked punt goes back 85 games, now the longest streak in college football.
- The Terps have not had one blocked since Nov. 13, 1999 (Florida State). That amount of time became the longest in NCAA football recently when Georgia, which last had one blocked earlier in the 1999 season, had a punt blocked by Ole Miss.

TURNING THE TABLES

- While the Terrapins are not yielding blocked punts, they are doing their best not to return the favor to their opposition.
- In the last two years, the Terps have blocked four punts. They opened this season with a Josh Wilson block against William & Mary.

SELECT COMPANY

- Ralph Friedgen's 41 wins in his first five years as a head coach ranked tied for second in Atlantic Coast Conference history among coaches in their first five years. Friedgen is working his way up the charts for sixth-year ACC coaches.
- Though he was the top second-, third- and fourth-year coach in ACC history by wins, Friedgen's win total after last season fell short of the mark of 44 wins set by Clemson's Danny Ford from 1979-83. That mark, however, tied him for second with former Terrapin great Jerry Claiborne (1972-76) on the list of fifth-year mentors.
- Friedgen (49-24) fell just short this season of matching the six-year ACC mark of Ford (51-15-2).
- The win over Miami moved Friedgen into a tie for 2nd place on the list of career victories in a coaches' 6th year at an ACC school. Dick Crum was 48-20-1 at North Carolina from 1978-82, and Friedgen is now tied with Claiborne, who was 49-20-2 at Maryland from 1972-77.

NEW OLD FACES

- The loss of two experienced coordinators this past season left what would seem to have been a gap in experience on the Terrapin coaching staff. With Friedgen taking over at offensive coordinator and Chris Cosh on the defensive side, Maryland is far from green, however.
- The Maryland staff (head coach and full-time assistants), overall, possesses a combined total of 202 years of full-time experience at either the collegiate or pro levels.
- That total includes seven coaches (Friedgen, Cosh, Brattan, Rychleski, Seamonson, Sollazzo and Zacharias) who have been at it for 20 years or more, and the 202 years means an average of over 20 years of experience per coach on the 2006 staff.
- Only quarterbacks coach John Donovan (four years) has less than 10 years as a full-time assistant coach. Donovan's time around football is not quite so brief, however, as he spent four years at Georgia Tech as Friedgen's graduate assistant and four years with the Terps as an assistant recruiting coordinator.

BACK IN THE SADDLE

- This season will be Ralph Friedgen's first coordinating the Maryland offense while also serving as head coach. Prior to this year, Friedgen had not called offensive plays since leaving Georgia Tech in 2000.
- In his last stint in college as a coordinator (1998-2000), Friedgen guided a Georgia Tech offense unit that averaged 36.7 points and 444 yards of total offense per game. During that span, the Yellow Jackets posted a record of 27-8 (.771)
- This run is Friedgen's second coordinating the Maryland offense as he served in the same role under head coach Bobby Ross from 1982-86. In his time with Ross at Maryland, Friedgen helped lead the Terps to three ACC Championships and was instrumental in the development of quarterbacks Boomer Esiason, Frank Reich and Stan Gelbaugh.

TOUGH ROAD

- The Terrapins road back to a bowl game has been a challenging one, as their schedule was one of the toughest in the nation this season. The Terrapins played five teams ranked in the AP Top 20 at the time of the game (West Virginia, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Boston College, Wake Forest).
- Eight bowl teams were among the 12 teams on Maryland's schedule this season (Middle Tennessee, WVU, Georgia Tech, Florida State, Clemson, Miami, Boston College, Wake Forest). The Terrapins closed their 2006 schedule with five straight bowl teams.
- The NCAA maintains weekly an updated list of toughest schedules in the nation based on opponents' won-lost records. At one point this season, Maryland was facing the seventh-toughest slate of games among all Division I-A schools.
- In his online column in the preseason, ESPN.com's Bruce Feldman ranked the Terps schedule as the 10th-toughest in college football this season.

SAM I AM

- For just the second time in the last six years, Maryland started a season with a returning starter at the quarterback position. And though the success Sam Hollenbach (pronounced HALL-en-bock) had a year ago is not that of Scott McBrien (the last QB to return as starter) in 2003, his experience and knowledge of Friedgen's offense suggests that he he is the man to lead the Terp offense this season.
- Through 12 games this season, Hollenbach did not have a breakout performance, but did cut down on the mistakes that plagued him a year ago. In 2006, he is 188-for-304 (61.8 completion percentage) for 2,148 yards with 13 touchdowns and 11 interceptions. His career completion percentage is third-best in school history.
- Hollenbach's career completion percentage heading into the bowl game is 61.4 percent (402-for-655). Now with 4,916 yards passing in his career, Hollenbach is 5th on the all-time list at Maryland. Next on the list is Neil O'Donnell, who threw for 4,989 yards from 1987-89. He is 84 yards from becoming only the 4th Terrapin in school history to reach the 5,000-yard mark in his career.
- On career lists, he also ranks 4th with 655 attempts (Neil O'Donnell is 3rd at 658), 3rd in completions with 402 (461, Boomer Esiason, 1981-83) and T4th with 26 passing touchdowns (Neil O'Donnell, 1987-89).
- Hollenbach was the only returning ACC quarterback to rank in the top five in pass efficiency, total offense and passing yardage last year. The lone QB who achieved that feat along with him was the now-departed Charlie Whitehurst of Clemson. In the regular season, Hollenbach ranked 3rd in the ACC in total offense, pass efficiency rating and passing yards per game.
- Entering the bowl game, Hollenbach is 14-9 in his career as a starter.

TERPLE THREAT

- Heading into last season, Maryland was -- for the first time since 2001 -- in search of a tailback. Mario Merrills, Lance Ball, Keon Lattimore and J.P. Humber were all vying for the job and midway through last season, no single back had been named the every day starter. A year later, the Terrapins are as deep and talented at tailback as any team in the ACC and the only issue at hand is splitting up the carries.
- This year, the team has made regular use of Ball, and Lattimore while also mixing in veteran Josh Allen.
- So far this season, the trio has accounted for 329 carries, 1,473 yards and 11 touchdowns rushing
- Still only a junior, Ball established himself as one of the league's top backs a year ago, rushing for 903 yards despite starting only four games. He rushed over 100 yards four times in the team's last seven games in 2005 and was ultimately named second team All-ACC.
- Ball (above center) currently leads the team in rushing with 717 yards on 156 carries (4.6 per carry). He is 9th in the ACC in rushing and rushed for the fifth 100-yard game of his career at Georgia Tech (23 carries, 116 yards).
- Junior Keon Lattimore (above right) missed spring recovering from a shoulder injury, but has returned and looked like a different player this season. He is second on the team in rushing (140 carries, 658 yards) and his 4.7 yards per carry leads the team. Lattimore had the first 100-yard rushing game of his career at Virginia and surpassed that with 119 yards in the regular-season finale against Wake Forest.
- Now completely healed from an injury suffered in the final game of 2004, Josh Allen (above left) returns to give the Terps yet another threat. Allen enters the bowl game tied for 6th on the school's all-time list for rushing touchdowns and moved into the career top 10 for rushing yards with 1,958. He is now 9th on that list, passing Billy Lovett (1966-68) against NC State.

RECEIVERS COMING ALONG

- In Vernon Davis, Danny Melendez, Jo Jo Walker and Derrick Fenner, Maryland lost 76 percent (160 of 210) of its receptions due to graduation or the NFL draft. It is not a mystery that players will have to step up in their absence.
- The Maryland two-deep returned just one senior (Drew Weatherly) and no other players with the exception of special teams guru Greg Powell with any more experienced than a sophomore. What the team does have that it did not have even last year in its talented trio of wideouts is an abundance of physical talent.
- The average height and weight of this year's top five receivers is 6-2, 203. In that group, the average time in the 40-yard dash in spring drills was 4 46 with Darrius Heyward-Bey and Isaiah Williams each sub-4.4.
- Through 12 games, Maryland's top three wide receivers were all second-year players (Danny Oquendo, Williams and Heyward-Bey). The only non-receiver to sneak into the top four is another first-year starter, TE Joey Haynos.

MORE ON RECEIVING

- Heyward-Bey had an outstanding game at Georgia Tech, often getting yards where there seemingly were none. He finished the day with five receptions for 111 yards, the first 100-yard effort of his young career and first of the season for the Terrapins.
- His 175-yard game against Miami featured catches of 65 and 96 yards on which he was able to display his showcase speed. His 175 yards accounted for the second-best game by an ACC receiver this season, behind only Jomar Wright's 10-for-176 game for Duke against Miami. His 613 receiving yards this season are a Maryland freshman record and fourth all-time in ACC history among first-year players.
- Heyward-Bey went from out of the top 10 on the ACC's receiving yards list into 3rd with his big game against the Hurricanes. He's now averaging 52.4 receiving yards per game, finishing the regular season in 6th on that chart in the ACC statistics. In conference games only, he was 3rd in receiving yards per game (63.8) behind only potential first-round pick Calvin Johnson of Georgia Tech (92.5) and Chansi Stuckey of Clemson (65.7).

MASCOT MATCH-UP

TESTUDO

Testudo, the official mascot of the University of Maryland, is not your ordinary Diamondback terrapin. For over sixty years, he has been the symbol for this campus, overseeing us in good times and bad. It is not easy work, and Testudo has experienced firsthand the dangers involved in being a source of campus pride.

Testudo got his start back in 1932, when then football coach Dr. H. Curley Byrd recommended that the Diamondback terrapin be made the school mascot. It is also the Maryland State Reptile. The suggestion was in response to The Diamondback's (the school paper, even back then) search for a new "official" mascot. Before this search, Maryland teams were called the Old Liners. The terrapin, a turtle native to the Chesapeake Bay, seemed a great choice and a logical one coming from Byrd. His native Crisfield, MD was famous for its terrapins.

While the origin of the terrapin as school mascot is well known, why the mascot was named Testudo is more mysterious. One leading contender for the name's origin is that it was derived from the scientific classification for turtle, testudines. Another theory is that the name is from testudo gigantia, a species native to the African country Seychelles and the remote island Aldabra. Finally, the derivation of the word testudo itself comes from the Latin word for a protective shelter used for Roman soldiers heads, similar to a tortoise shell.

PURDUE PETE

A boilermaker if ever there was one, Purdue Pete first took the field to cheer on the Boilermakers in 1956. Initially, students with tumbling ability were chosen to portray Pete. In those days, Pete had a papier mache head and a bit of padding but was expected to tumble along with the cheerleaders. Today, Pete's head is crafted in the same aviation technology lab that produced the locomotive body of the X-tra Special. In addition to the head, the four students who portray Pete wear shoulder pads and carry a hammer.

Pete got his start in 1940 as an advertising icon for University Bookstore, and he continues in that role. He first appeared outside bookstore ads in 1944, when editors of the Debris yearbook put an adapted Pete on each page. For instance, in the home economics section, Pete had a bucket and mop; for civil engineering, he peered through a transit.

Purdue Pete lore is filled with tales of wrestling matches against opposing mascots and muggings by opposing fans. Once, on the way back from Iowa, Pete's head blew out of the back of the Boilermaker Special. It was never found.

Pete has changed with the times, boasting more than five makeovers through his years rooting on the Boilermakers.

- In game three (at West Virginia), the trio of Heyward-Bey, Williams and Oquendo accounted for eight more receptions (12) than they had in their collective careers prior to this year. Heyward-Bey and Williams each posted then career highs in receptions and yards and Williams caught his first career touchdown, a 35-yarder.

NOTING THE TERP DEFENSE

- When he was hired to come to Maryland, the talk about the mark Ralph Friedgen would make in College Park was all about offense. For the majority of his tenure, however, the most consistent Terp unit has been the defense.
- Since 2001, the Maryland defense has allowed an average of 19.4 points per game. The 2005 campaign was the team's first in that time finishing a season with a scoring average above 20.0.
- Maryland's defense has been outstanding in the red zone, one of the key ingredients to the midseason winning streak. Between the final red-zone trip by Florida State on 10/28 and the end of the Boston College game on 11/18, on 11 attempts by opponents, the Terps allowed just 1 touchdown and 8 field goals, while blocking one FG and seeing another FG missed. The Eagles got a TD and FG in 3 trips inside the Terp 20. Wake Forest bucked that trend a bit, getting 4 touchdowns and a field goal on 6 red-zone trips on 11/25.
- Last year's defensive scoring average of 25.0 points per game was somewhat deceiving. The Terrapins gave up 42 points without the defense even being on the field (four interception returns, one punt return and one fumble return). Factor that in and the team averaged 21.1 points allowed per game, which would have ranked 26th-best in the nation as opposed to 55th.
- Since 2001, 45 of Maryland's 73 opponents (62%) have been held to 20 points or less.
- Since 2002, Maryland has held its opposition scoreless in 101 quarters (including 14 in 2006).
- Prior to the first-half shutout of NC State, the last time Maryland held an opponent scoreless in the first half was 11/27/2004 when the Terps posted a zero on the scoreboard at Wake Forest. Maryland won that game 13-7.
- Maryland has held nine opponents to 100 yards or less passing since 2001 (one in 2006).
- Since '01, Maryland has held its opposition below 100 yards rushing 16 times. The Terps have accomplished the feat twice in '06 (William & Mary and FIU).
- Just 5 times since game two of 2003 has a quarterback been able to pass for more than one touchdown against the Terrapins (Virginia Tech's Bryan Randall in 2004, Clemson's Charlie Whitehurst in 2005, Virginia's Jameel Sewell, Florida State's Xavier Lee and BC's Matt Ryan in 2006).

TURNOVER LOW IN '06 AND '07

- Maryland had just 15 seniors on its roster last season, with two of those seniors -- OT Stephon Heyer and TB Josh Allen -- back in uniform this year after redshirting due to injury.
- Only seven of those 15 seniors from last year were listed as starters (three offense, four defense).
- Just four players from the entire defensive two-deep from last year were lost to graduation.
- This season's team has a total of just 13 seniors.

LB UNIT HOME OF THE HARDWARE

- Three of the last five years, the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year has been a Maryland linebacker. This season the Terps have had to replace last year's honoree after losing eventual NFL second-round pick D'Qwell Jackson (currently the Browns' third-leading tackler), so it may come as a shock that Maryland's LB corps may be better this season.
- Focus this year has been on junior Wesley Jefferson as he is filling the spot where E.J. Henderson (2001 and 2002) and Jackson (2005) earned their hardware while also garnering national award attention at season's end. Jefferson -- who is currently 3rd in the ACC in tackles with 8.9 per game -- has a deeper and possibly more talented surrounding cast than either All-American was afforded. LB Erin Henderson, for example, is just ahead of his teammate in 2nd place in the league (9.2 per game) and the Terp duo trails only Virginia Tech LB Vince Hall (9.6 per game) on that list.
- In game one of 2006, the Terps got eight players in at their four linebacker positions with four of the team's top five tacklers being linebackers. Between Jefferson, Dave Philistin, Erin Henderson and Trey Covington, 28 tackles, three TFLs and two sacks were accounted for.
- LBs have led the Terps in tackles in 11 of the 12 games (CB Isaiah Gardner had a team-high 8 vs. Middle Tennessee). Jefferson has led the Terps 5 times in games (W&M, FIU, UVa, NC State, Miami), while senior David Holloway topped the tackle chart against West Virginia and Georgia Tech. Henderson topped the tackle chart for the first time this season against FSU, finishing with 13, then surpassed that total with 18 at Clemson. He led the Terps with 11 stops against Wake Forest.
- Jefferson had a career-high 13 against NC State. Jefferson had 14 at Miami and Henderson finished with a 4-9-13 chart against the 'Canes.
- Jefferson (W&M, UVa, NC State, Miami), Holloway (GT) and Henderson (UVa, FSU, Clem, Miami, Wake) have posted games in double figures this season.

TURTLES IN NAME ONLY

- The last two years, Maryland has seen an increased level of speed and athleticism among its players as the players on this year's team have shown in offseason testing (Last season was the first year that there were no remaining players from the previous regime's recruiting efforts).
- The Terrapins had 14 players run in the 4.5-or-better range in the 40-yard dash in spring testing (note that all times are an average of six stopwatches on the same sprint).
- Four of the 11 wide receivers who tested in the spring ran 4 44 or faster and six defensive backs ran under a 4.5.
- Some notable times from players other than wideouts and corners who ran well include linebacker Dave Philistin (4.55), quarterback Josh Portis (4.53) and punter Adam Podlesh (4.44).
- One other notable time, though it has as much to do with weight as it does speed, was the 4.83 time of 312-pound defensive tackle Dre Moore.

PODLESH MOVING UP THE CHARTS

- Adam Podlesh is rated by NFL scouts as one of the top senior punting prospects this season. He has earned that distinction with as complete a resume as a punter can possess -- gross average, net average, directional punting and consistency -- and he has done it throughout his career at Maryland.
- In 12 games this season, Podlesh is averaging 43.1 yards per punt on 50 attempts with 21 balls inside the 20-yard line and 17 fair catches.
- Podlesh is ranked 20th nationally in gross punt average heading into bowl season.
- On 212 career punts, Podlesh has dropped 38 percent (81) inside the opponents' 20-yard line and 16 percent (34) inside the opposition's 10.
- Podlesh has earned second-team All-ACC honors in each of his four years at Maryland. In each of those seasons, he was ranked just behind last year's Ray Guy Award winner Ryan Plackemeier of Wake Forest. He is the only player in school history to earn All-ACC honors four times.
- In being named the second team All-ACC punter in 2003, Podlesh became the first freshman in school history to be recognized by the league.
- Heading into 2006, Podlesh's career average was ninth-best in ACC history and just a half-yard shy of Brooks Barnard's school record of 43.7. Podlesh currently carries a 43.2 career average.

MORE SPECIAL TEAMS

- Two crucial stats came to the attention of talented special teams coordinator/assistant coach Ray Rychleski in bowl preparations:
- Maryland's average start of drives after kickoff returns was the Terrapins' 31-yard line. That figure led the ACC.
- Another ACC-leading note, opponents' net punting average against the Terps was 31.5 yards, another factor that gave Maryland good field position to work with.
- Senior CB Josh Wilson is one of the top return men in college football, ranking third with 28.1 yards per return. He has also shattered the Terps' single-season return yards mark (844).

KEEPING PLAYERS AT HOME

- In his first signing day with the Terps (2001), Ralph Friedgen said that in addition to landing some of the top recruits nationally, one of his goals was to make sure that all of the best players in the state of Maryland stayed in state and became Terps.
- Over the course of the past eight years, the Maryland-D.C.-Virginia recruiting area has been tapped with regularity by the Terps. In 1997, just 23 players on the Maryland roster hailed from either Maryland, D.C. or Virginia, with six of those serving as opening-game starters. Since that time, however, numbers in both categories have risen steadily to their current level of more than half the current roster. Below is a look at the trend:

Md./D.C./Va.	'98	'99	'00	'01	'02	'03	'04	'05	06
on '06 roster	34	39	46	49	54	56	58	57	55
Starters*	5	7	12	10	14	10	12	10	13

*reflects number of starters in the season opener.

- The Terrapins' success in the region has been the foundation for the team's success in recent years. Friedgen credits the signing class which included Randy Starks and Domonique Foxworth for starting the trend that included such names as recent NFL Rookie of the Year Shawne Merriman and 2006 No. 6 overall draft pick Vernon Davis.

IRON TERPS

- Maryland's strength numbers over the course of the last six years have been off the charts. This season, 22 players earned "Iron Terp" status, an honor that is based on a player's strength index (determined by a strength/weight formula).
- Team averages (in categories used to measure index) this season include an average bench press of 338 pounds; an average squat of 489 pounds; an average clean of 294 pounds; and an average vertical jump of 33-1/2 inches.
- Not only were new individual records set, but the team as a whole improved dramatically, as 78 percent of the players on this year's team elevated their personal bests in strength index.
- Nine different all-time records were set for players at their given position. Among those records were the 40-yard dash time of punter Adam Podlesh (4.44), the vertical jump of linebacker Rick Costa (42 inches) and the bench press of quarterback Jordan Steffy (355).
- Arguably the most amazing record set was by offensive tackle Jared Gaither. At 6-9 and 350 pounds, Gaither posted a 36-inch vertical jump.

The 6-9, 350-pound Jared Gaither set the all-time record for vertical jump by an offensive lineman with an amazing 36-inch jump.

ACC FOOTBALL POWER

- Now in its second year as a 12-team conference with a championship game, the Atlantic Coast Conference is widely recognized as one of the premier conferences in the country.
- Last season, eight ACC teams earned bowl bids. The league matched that total in 2006.
- The conference's schools have posted a 21-12 mark in postseason play in the last five years, best among all Division I-A conferences in that span.
- With 10 of its 12 teams in the Sagarin ratings final top 45 last season, the ACC was ranked second among all conferences in the final Sagarin poll in 2005. Three of its schools were rated by Sagarin to have among the toughest 20 schedules in the country before the season (UNC, 5th; Maryland, 10th; Georgia Tech, 16th).

A LOOK BACK

- Maryland has 49 wins in its six seasons under Ralph Friedgen (in Friedgen's first 5 seasons, the team averaged 8.2 wins per year).
- The Terps' total of 36 wins from 2001-04 was the second-highest four-year win total in school history. Maryland's top effort was 37 wins under Jerry Claiborne from 1975-78.
- In the 108 years of football prior to Friedgen's arrival, Maryland had never put together three straight nine-win seasons. The Terrapins won 10 games in each of Friedgen's first three seasons (2001, 2002 and 2003).

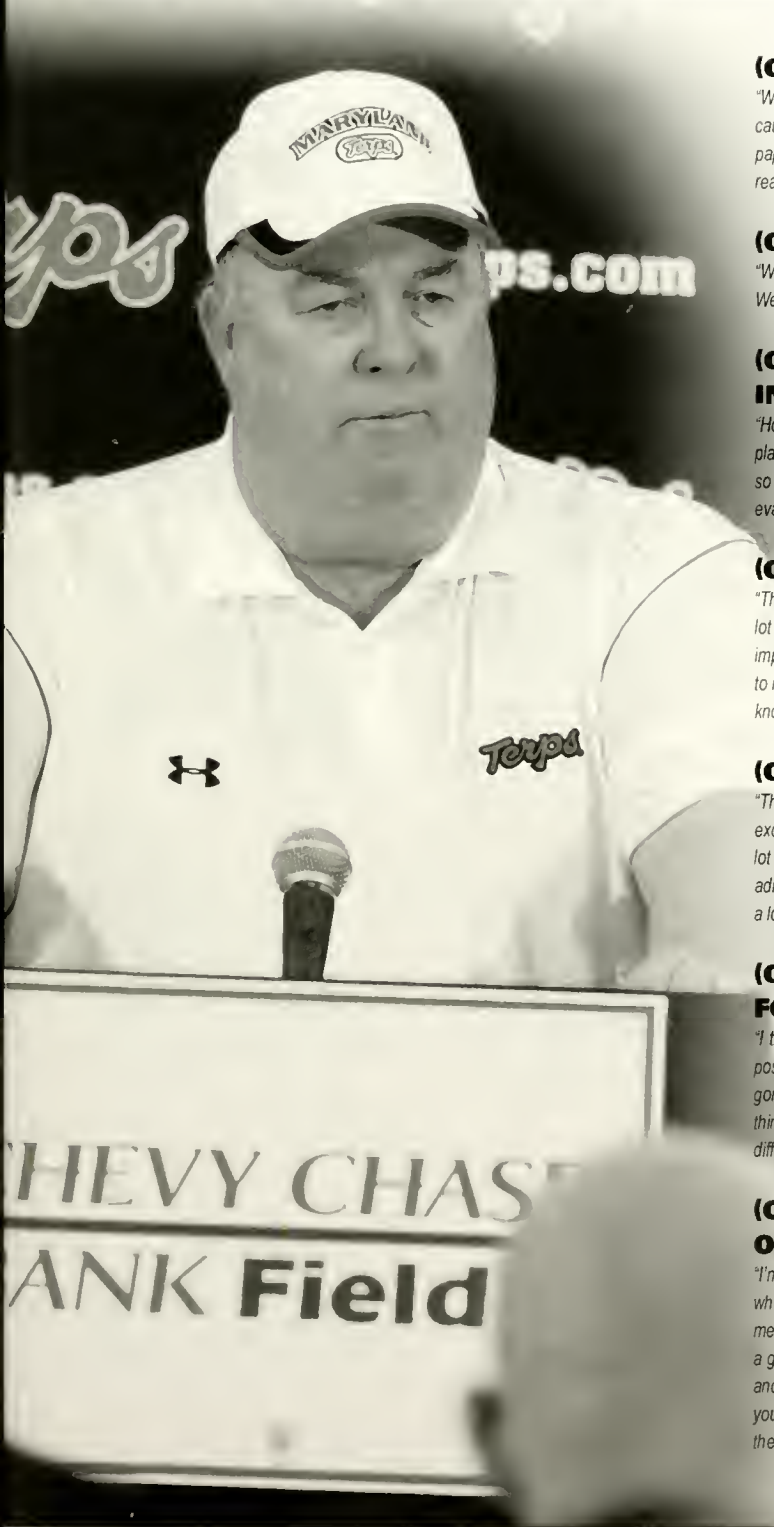
PROTECTING THE HOUSE

- Despite a sub-.500 record in 2005, the Terrapins are 30-8 at Byrd Stadium under Ralph Friedgen. The Terps finished 6-1 at home this season.
- The Terps finished the 2003 season with a perfect 6-0 record at home, marking the second time in three years the team finished its home slate unblemished.
- In 113 previous seasons of football, Maryland has finished undefeated at home 19 times. Just eight of those occasions, however, have come since 1950 (when Byrd Stadium opened) and just three times has it happened since 1975 (1976, 2001, 2003).
- The Terrapins' 6-0 mark in 2003 was a tie for the second-best record at home in school history. The 1976 team was also 6-0, only to be trumped by the 2001 team, which won all of its games on a 7-game home slate.

MORE ON CHEVY CHASE BANK FIELD AT BYRD STADIUM

- Now in its 57th year of operation, Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium continues to serve as the home of the Terps. Opened on Sept. 30, 1950, and constructed for a sum of $1 million, Byrd was named after Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd, a multi-sport star at Maryland who later became the school's head football coach and ultimately its president.
- The Terrapins are 186-107-1 within the friendly confines of Byrd

QUOTING THE FRIDGE



(ON THE BOWL TRIP)

"We're very excited to be going to the Champs Sports Bowl. Our kids have been off for a week, getting caught up academically. It's always a tough time of year because everything comes to a head, all the papers are due, exams are coming up, so I wanted to give them some time to get caught up and to get ready for the last big push."

(ON PRACTICING DURING EXAM WEEK)

"We will not practice during exams. I'm going to give them off starting with the study day which is next Wednesday, and then we'll come back and practice two times before we leave."

(ON HIS APPROACH TO PRACTICING IN THE POSTSEASON)

"Hopefully we'll close the gap with our younger kids for the spring. We'll try to prepare the guys that play through the game but also spend some time with the younger kids. We'll hopefully bridge the gap so when spring practice starts they'll have a pretty good chance of knowing what's going on so we can evaluate them and what they're doing."

(ON THE BREAK UNTIL THE BOWL GAME)

"The first year [in 2001], we were off for a long time and we didn't do very well with that. I handled that a lot differently than I did the last two bowl games. We ran two-a-days that first year and I think it's more important that our players go to the game excited and want to play. I think they need to get away from it, to recharge the batteries; I need to recharge mine too. I'm hoping there's a renewed sense of energy. I know yesterday the kids seemed generally excited about the bowl that we're going to."

(ON PURDUE)

"They're a very good team and anybody you play at this time of year is going to be good. They have an excellent quarterback, a very good wide receiver, a very good running back. Defensively, they have a lot of speed, especially on the edges. They play a very physical brand of football. I've always been an admirer of Coach Tiller's, of what he does and how he does it. Their kids play with a lot of enthusiasm, a lot of emotion. It's going to be a very, very good test for us."

(ON WHAT THIS BOWL MEANS FOR THE SENIOR CLASS)

"I think they wanted to finish better, especially the way we ended up. I know when they finish on a positive note, it's really a good feeling, maybe for the rest of their life. I think the people that have gone to our last two bowl games talk about how good they were and what a great time they had, but I think our players also have a good time when they win. A lot of them are graduating; this is it in a lot of different ways. It's not only their last game, in many cases it's their last class."

(ON THE PLAYERS ACHIEVING ONE OF THEIR GOALS)

"I'm excited for them because they're excited. You always worry about where they see themselves and where they want to go. I've been to a bunch of bowl games and I'll be honest, it's a lot more work for me, but it's enjoying their enthusiasm and their enjoyment to go. It's special and it's something that was a goal of this team's and now they've had an opportunity to achieve it. It would be nice to finish it off and be 9-4. As disappointing as the last two games were, when you look back over the whole season you see that we played eight teams that went to bowls, five of them that were ranked when we played them. To end up 9-4 would be a pretty darn good season for us."

HEAD COACH

RALPH FRI

SIX SEASONS • FOUR BOWLS

2002 ORANGE BOWL, 2002 PEACH BOWL
2004 GATOR BOWL, 2006 CHAMPS SPORTS BOWL

EDGEN

NOW IS IN HIS SIXTH YEAR AS HEAD COACH AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND, RALPH FRIEDGEN HAS A REPUTATION AS ONE OF THE TOP MINDS IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL. HE HAS LIFTED THE TERRAPINS TO UNPRECEDENTED HEIGHTS IN HIS TENURE, TAKING THE TEAM TO FOUR BOWL GAMES, INCLUDING A PAIR OF NEW YEAR'S DAY APPEARANCES. PRIOR TO FRIEDGEN'S ARRIVAL, MARYLAND HAD JUST ONE BOWL GAME APPEARANCE IN THE PREVIOUS 15 SEASONS.

He is the 33rd head coach in school history and ranks second in Maryland annals in career winning percentage (.671), trailing only legendary coach Jim Tatum, who is the only other mentor to lead the Terps to three 10-win seasons and multiple New Year's Day bowl appearances.

This season Friedgen has also taken on added responsibility, assuming the duties of the team's offensive coordinator, marking the first time he has called the plays in his head coaching tenure at Maryland. The team went on to post an 8-4 regular season record, marking the fourth eight-win campaign in the last six seasons.

A long-time successful assistant coach at Georgia Tech, where he was credited with overseeing one of the nation's most potent offensive attacks, Friedgen continues to build a new level of pride and glory to his alma mater's football program, guiding the Terps to a 49-24 record, including an Atlantic Coast Conference title and a pair of second-place finishes. Through his first five seasons, he was the second-winningest head coach in ACC history.

Not only do his 41 wins after five seasons match the mark of Terps legend Jerry Claiborne, they also fall just shy of the all-time ACC mark of 44, set by Clemson's Danny Ford in the early 1980s. In addition, in his first three seasons at the helm of the Terrapin program, Friedgen became the first coach in conference lore to lead a team to three-straight seasons of 10 wins or more, while his 36 wins in his first four years ranked him in the top 10 in NCAA history, surpassing the fourth-year marks of coaches such as Frank Leahy and Joe Paterno.

The consensus national Coach of the Year in 2001 after leading Maryland to its first ACC championship since 1985, Friedgen and Company have returned Maryland to prominence on the national scene. The Terrapins have won more games (49) in the five-plus seasons under Friedgen than they had in the 10 years prior to his arrival (37).

Long overlooked as a head-coaching candidate, the 1970 Maryland graduate was tapped as the Terps' head football coach following the 2000 season, and he wasted no time in returning the program to the glory days it achieved when Friedgen was an assistant to Bobby Ross in the 1980s.

Five years ago, in his first season as the Terps' grid boss, Maryland won its first seven games and eventually halted Florida State's reign as perennial ACC champion, earning the league's automatic berth in the Bowl Championship Series' FedEx Orange Bowl. By winning the ACC title that season, Friedgen became the first mentor in league history to win the championship in his first year as a head coach.

In 2002, despite a 1-2 start and without 19 seniors from the previous year, the Terps made their way back to a major bowl game, winning 10 of their last 11 games and finishing in a tie for second in the ACC. The 2003 campaign provided a bit of déjà vu for Friedgen and the Terrapins as they again started 1-2, and again ran off 10 wins in their final 11 games to earn a second New Year's bowl bid in three years.

By winning 11 games in 2002, Friedgen became just the second coach in school history to hit that mark, tying matching Claiborne's 11-win campaign in 1976.

This year's team started 3-2 before reeling off a five-game winning streak, which placed them in the midst of the ACC Atlantic Division race. The Terps lost to eventual champion Wake Forest on the final game of the regular season, but Maryland was a force in the league race throughout the year, enabling it to earn the fourth slot among ACC postseason bids and a trip to Orlando for the Champs Sports Bowl.

Friedgen's Terps have now gone to bowl games in four of his six seasons, participating in the BCS Orange Bowl his first year before posting lopsided victories over Tennessee (30-3) in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl and over West Virginia (41-7) in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

His offensive success notwithstanding, Friedgen's teams at Maryland have been superb on defense, ranking among the nation's leaders annually while producing the ACC's Defensive Player of the Year in three of the last five seasons (E.J. Henderson in 2001 and 2002; D'Qwell Jackson in 2005).

Named the winner of the Frank Broyles Award as the top assistant coach in the country in 1999 while at Tech, Friedgen brought 32 years of assistant coaching experience (including 21 as an offensive coordinator either in college or the NFL) with him in his return to College Park.

The 59-year-old Friedgen (pronounced FREE-jun) owns the rare distinction of coordinating the offense for both a collegiate national champion (Georgia Tech in 1990) and a Super Bowl team (San Diego in 1994).

Friedgen spent 20 seasons with the aforementioned Ross in coaching stops at The Citadel, Maryland, Georgia Tech and the NFL's San Diego Chargers. He returned to Tech in 1997, where he served another successful stint as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under good friend George O'Leary, now the head coach at the University of Central Florida.

A 1970 graduate of Maryland, where he earned a degree in physical education, Friedgen launched his coaching career as a graduate assistant before heading off to a series of jobs that included The Citadel (1973-79), William & Mary (1980) and Murray State (1981).

In 1982, he returned to Maryland as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach under Ross, with Friedgen's tenure lasting until 1986. During that stretch, the Terps captured three consecutive ACC championships (1983-85) and played in four bowl games. All told, the Terrapins were 39-15-1 from 1982-86 and won two bowl games (the Sun Bowl in 1984 and the Cherry Bowl in 1985). It is the type of success Friedgen has instilled in his current group of Terrapins.

The Ross-Friedgen connection began in 1973, when Ross hired the former Maryland offensive guard as defensive line coach at The Citadel. Friedgen spent seven seasons at The Citadel, the last three as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. He then worked one season (1980) as offensive coordinator at William & Mary and one season (1981) as assistant head coach at Murray State before Ross tapped him to be his offensive coordinator at Maryland in 1982.

Dunng his five-year stay at Maryland under Ross, Friedgen was instrumental in the development of future pro quarterbacks Boomer Esiason, Frank Reich and Stan Gelbaugh, all of whom spent at least 10 seasons in the National Football League. Esiason played professionally from 1984-97, Reich from 1985-98 and Gelbaugh from 1986-95.

Friedgen followed Ross to Georgia Tech in 1987, becoming the Yellow Jackets' offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the next five seasons, including the 1990 campaign when Tech, unranked in the preseason, captured the national championship with an 11-0-1 record. The national title came just two years after the Jackets had posted back-to-back seasons of three wins or less.

When Ross was named head coach of the San Diego Chargers in 1992, he tapped Friedgen to serve as running game coordinator for two seasons (1992-93) before elevating him to offensive coordinator in 1994, when the Chargers advanced to the Super Bowl for the first time in franchise history. During his time with the Chargers, Friedgen helped a club that had not made the playoffs in a decade reach postseason play three times in five seasons.

Known for developing balanced offensive attacks with multiple looks, Tech was one of only two teams in the country in 1999 to average at least 200 yards rushing and 200 yards passing. Tech also accomplished the feat under Friedgen's guidance in 1990, '91 and '98. The 1999 team, with Joe Hamilton at quarterback, set 59 school records, rewriting many marks established by the 1990 national championship team, which was led by another Friedgen pupil, Shawn Jones (1989-92). Friedgen was a finalist for the Broyles Award as the nation's top assistant coach in 1998 when the Ramblin' Wreck set a then-school record with 50 touchdowns.

The first Maryland alum since Bob Ward (1967-68) to serve as the Terps' head football coach, Friedgen originally came to Maryland as a quarterback in the mid-'60s and spent most of his career as an offensive lineman, lettering in 1966 and '68 and capturing Academic All-ACC honors. He was a two-time winner of the George C. Cook Memorial Award (1968-69) for having the highest academic average on the football team.

Friedgen's coaching roots run deep. His father, also named Ralph (though not a "Sr."), was a high school coach for more than 30 years and masterminded, among other teams, the 1964 Westchester County (N.Y.) High School team that went undefeated and averaged 44 points per game running what was then an unusual multiple offense. It was an offense run by a 190-pound quarterback later recruited by Maryland who shared his name. Maybe as a sign of things to come, the younger Ralph called all of his team's offensive plays from his junior year on.

Friedgen and his wife, the former Gloria Spina, have three daughters: Kelley, Kristina and Katie. Gloria is currently the Coordinator of Alumni Affairs and Outreach for the College of Health and Human Performance at Maryland while both serve on that college's Board of Visitors. Kelley is in her second year as an associate at Arnold and Porter in D.C., specializing in pharmaceutical and medical device law; Knstina is in her third year in the theater program at Maryland; and Katie is her first year of college at Maryland, majoring in art.

CHEVY CHASE BANK FIELD AT BYRD STADIUM
COLLEGE PARK, MD.
SEPT. 2, 2006

MARYLAND	27
WILLIAM & MARY	14

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Lance Ball ran for 86 yards and two touchdowns, Keon Lattimore had a career-high 86 yards rushing and a score, as Maryland beat William & Mary.

The Terrapins had little difficulty against the Division I-AA Tribe, scoring touchdowns on two of their first three possessions in building a 24-7 halftime lead. Fifth-year senior Sam Hollenbach went 9-for-15 for 153 yards.

Ball, who led the Terrapins with 903 yards rushing last season, had 15 carries. Lattimore, a junior, ran 13 times.

William & Mary, of the Atlantic 10 Conference, got offensive production from quarterback Jake Phillips, who completed 16 of 31 passes for 127 yards, including a 9-yard touchdown to Elliott Mack in the second quarter. Backup Michael Potts went 9-for-10 and threw a 49-yard TD pass to D.J. McAulay with 4:35 left.

The Terrapins led comfortably at halftime despite committing three turnovers and allowing the Tribe to control the ball for nearly 17 minutes.

Maryland's first possession ended with wide receiver Danny Oquendo losing a fumble, but the Terrapins went up 7-0 the next time they got the ball. After Josh Wilson blocked a punt, Hollenbach completed a 42-yard pass to Joey Haynos to set up a 2-yard touchdown run by Ball.

Oquendo atoned for his turnover on the Terrapins' next drive, making a diving catch for a 38-yard gain with Maryland facing a third-and-11 at its 49. That led to a 1-yard touchdown run by Lattimore and a 14-0 lead.

The Terrapins then forced a punt, but the kick deflected off Maryland's Isaiah Gardner and was recovered by the Tribe at their 44. Nine plays later, Phillips connected with Mack to make it 17-7.

Hollenbach directed a four-play, 75-yard drive that restored the 17-point cushion just before halftime. Hollenbach's 47-yard completion to Isaiah Williams preceded a 3-yard touchdown run by Ball with 53 seconds left in the half.

Hollenbach opened the second half by moving the Terrapins 53 yards in a drive that produced a 25-yard field goal by Ennis.

MIDDLE TENNESSEE	10

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Lance Ball rushed for two touchdowns and Maryland defeated Middle Tennessee before 47,704 at Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium.

Sam Hollenbach completed 11 of 16 passes for 139 yards and ran for a touchdown for the Terrapins (2-0).

Eugene Gross ran for a TD and Clint Marks was 22-for-41 for 216 yards for Middle Tennessee (1-1), which trailed 17-3 at halftime.

Maryland took a 7-0 lead on a 12-yard run by Ball, four plays after Josh Wilson returned the opening kickoff 61 yards.

Dan Ennis kicked a 37-yard field goal with 4:06 left in the first quarter and Hollenbach sneaked in from 1 yard out midway through the second period.

Maryland scored on its first possession of the second half. Ball ran 2 yards off left tackle for a 24-3 lead.

The Blue Raiders ate up 8:28 during a 17-play, 80-yard march capped by a 2-yard sweep right by Gross with 1:01 remaining in the third quarter.

Maryland was outgained 321-274 by its Sun Belt Conference opponent, running 50 plays to 74 for the Blue Raiders.

GAME 3

MILAN PUSKAR STADIUM
MORGANTOWN, W.VA.
SEPT. 14, 2006

#5/5 WEST VIRGINIA	45
MARYLAND	24

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — Steve Slaton rushed for 195 yards to lead the fifth-rankedMountaineers to a victory over the Terrapins on Thursday night.

Pat White threw for a TD and ran for another while Darius Reynaud scored twice, including a 96-yard kickoff return, for the Mountaineers (3-0), who extended their winning streak to 10 games, second in the nation to TCU's 12 in a row.

West Virginia took a 38-10 halftime lead in beating Maryland (2-1) for the third straight year, the first time that has happened since 1996-98. The teams have met every year since 1980.

West Virginia's young defense, pressed to force more turnovers, also delivered, finishing with five takeaways. Maryland's Sam Hollenbach was intercepted twice and the Terrapins fumbled the ball three times, twice by Josh Wilson on kickoffs.

Slaton had 149 yards in the first quarter against Maryland when West Virginia scored on all four possessions.

Slaton had early TD runs of 38 and 37 yards. A fumble recovery on a kickoff set up Reynaud's 5-yard scoring catch from White, who also had a 1-yard TD run in the third quarter.

Jay Henry's interception set up West Virginia's fourth touchdown.

Slaton ran 52 yards to the Maryland 2. He fumbled on the next play, but tight end Brad Palmer pounced on the rolling ball just before it went out of the end zone for his first career touchdown and a 28-0 lead.

Maryland drove 80 yards to start the second quarter with Hollenbach throwing a 6-yard TD pass to tight end Joey Haynos. It was the first TD allowed by the Mountaineers in eight quarters.

After the teams traded field goals, Reynaud picked up his own fumble at the 4-yard line in the final minute of the half, took off up the middle and scored West Virginia's first kickoff return for a touchdown in 31 games.

Lance Ball's 11-yard TD run early in the third quarter pulled Maryland within 38-17.

GAME 4

CHEVY CHASE BANK FIELD AT BYRD STADIUM
COLLEGE PARK, MD.
SEPT. 23, 2006

MARYLAND	14
FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL	10

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) -Sam Hollenbach threw a pair of first-half touchdown passes and Chrstian Varner intercepted Josh Padrick's pass at the 3-yard line as time expired, preserving Maryland's victory over Florida International.

Padrick, who completed 15 of 32 passes for 221 yards, completed a desperation heave to Chandler Williams at the 9 with 1 second left. Varner's interception, however, sent the Golden Panthers (0-4) to their fourth loss by a combined total of 11 points this season.

Hollenbach completed 17 of 30 passes for 158 yards, and Lance Ball added 82 yards rushing for the Terrapins (3-1).

Maryland took advantage of early miscues by Florida International to take the lead.

After a 13-yard punt by Chris Cook gave the Terrapins the ball at the Florida International 43, their drive appeared to stall when Alexander Bostic sacked Hollenbach on a third-and-11. But the Panthers were called for a face-mask penalty, and two plays later Hollenbach hit Josh Allen on a screen pass for a 14-yard touchdown.

The Terps had a chance to extend the lead early in the second quarter, but Lionell Singleton intercepted Hollenbach's pass in the end zone.

Two plays later, Panthers tight end Samuel Smith caught a short pass from Padrick, broke a tackle at the 35 and ran 87 yards for the tying score. It was the longest pass play in Florida International history.

Following a missed 47-yard field-goal attempt by Maryland's Dan Ennis, the Terrapins took a 14-7 lead near the end of the half when Danny Oquendo's 37-yard punt return gave them the ball at the Panthers 28. Hollenbach then found Williams in the front corner of the end zone with 10 seconds left.

In the second half, A'Mod Ned's 52-yard run down the right sideline set up Chris Patullo's 26-yard field goal, cutting Maryland's lead to 14-10 with 10:42 to play. The Panthers had rushed for a total of 31 yards prior to Ned's run.

Ball finished with 82 yards rushing for the Terrapins, who held the ball for 12 minutes more than Florida International in the game.

GRANT FIELD AT BOBBY DODD STADIUM ATLANTA, GA. OCT. 7, 2006

#18/20 GEORGIA TECH 27
MARYLAND 23

ATLANTA (AP) -Tashard Choice rushed for a career-high 138 yards and two touchdowns and No. 18 Georgia Tech rallied from a nine-point deficit and survived a last-minute scare to beat Maryland

Michael Johnson got to Maryland quarterback Sam Hollenbach on third and fourth down in the final minute after the Terrapins had a first-and-goal at the 7

Choice posted his second straight 100-yard game. Reggie Ball added 84 yards rushing with a touchdown and completed another touchdown pass to Calvin Johnson as Georgia Tech (5-1, 3-0) won its fifth straight game

Johnson had 10 catches for 133 yards and a touchdown. He caught four passes for 53 yards in the first possession of the game, including a 10-yard touchdown.

Maryland's first points came on a 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Josh Wilson

On Maryland's final possession, Sam Hollenbach completed a pass to Darrius Heyward-Bey that went for 57 yards to the Tech 7

Two carries by Lance Ball gained only 2 yards, leaving Maryland with a third down at the 5. Michael Johnson harassed Hollenbach, who was penalized for intentional grounding. On fourth-and-19, Michael Johnson again broke through for another sack to end the Terrapins' upset bid

Maryland (3-2, 0-1) led 23-14 after three quarters before committing two turnovers in the final period.

After Tech pulled within 23-21, Lance Ball, who rushed for 116 yards, lost a fumble at the Maryland 17 with 11:05 left. The ball was recovered by KaMichael Hall to set up the go-ahead 15-yard touchdown run by Choice

The Terrapins then drove into Tech territory before Hollenbach's fourth-and-2 pass from the 41 was intercepted by Kenny Scott

Hollenbach's 3-yard pass to tight end Joey Haynos, open in the middle of the end zone, gave the Terrapins a 17-7 lead early in the second quarter.

Choice led Georgia Tech back, handling the ball on seven plays in an eight-play touchdown drive that ended with his 1-yard leap over the top for the score

Trailing 17-14, Tech drove to the Maryland 23 late in the half. On fourth-and-1, Bell faked a 40-yard field goal attempt, but his pass attempt for Durant Brooks, the holder, was incomplete

Dan Ennis kicked a 46-yard field goal, the longest of his career, with 59 seconds left in the half to give Maryland a 20-14 lead. A 32-yard field goal by Ennis in the third quarter pushed the lead to 23-14

SCOTT STADIUM CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA. OCT. 14, 2006

MARYLAND 28
VIRGINIA 26

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) - Keon Lattimore ran 56 yards for the go-ahead touchdown and Erin Henderson returned an interception 45 yards for another score as Maryland rallied for a victory over Virginia.

The Terrapins (4-2, 1-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) trailed 20-0 before staging their comeback.

It started when Emmanuel Byers muffed a punt early in the second half and Maryland recovered at the Virginia 1. Lance Ball scored on the next play, and Maryland scored three more TDs before Virginia contributed some drama at the end.

The Cavaliers (2-5, 1-2) had a chance to tie with 2:37 left when Jameel Sewell hit Kevin Ogletree with a 44-yard touchdown pass, but Terps defensive back Josh Wilson helped break up a 2-point pass to Ogletree.

The victory was the first for the visiting team in five meetings between the Terps with Ralph Friedgen as coach and Virginia under Al Groh. Last season, Maryland scored 21 points in the fourth quarter in a 45-33 win.

After a 255-yard first half, Virginia managed just three first downs in the third quarter. The Cavaliers still led 21-7, but were clearly on their heels.

Sam Hollenbach ran 3 yards for a touchdown on the second play of the final quarter, and the Terps held Virginia without a first down. Five plays after the Terps took over at their 16, Lattimore burst through the line and down the right sideline almost untouched.

Two plays after the kickoff, Henderson stepped in front of Sewell's pass for Tom Santi at the Terps 45 and the linebacker outran everyone down the other side.

In 6:11, Maryland had scored 21 points and taken a 28-20 lead

Fans who weren't streaming to the exits saw Sewell drive the Cavaliers to the Maryland 21 before his 6-yard run and three incompletions gave the ball back

After a Maryland punt, Sewell found Ogletree down the middle of the field on the first play. But Wilson also had Ogletree on the 2-point pass, and was there to help break up the attempt.

Hollenbach was 17-for-28 for 171 yards, and Sewell was 13-for-21 for 243. He also ran 10 times for 92 yards, including a 36-yard touchdown on Virginia's first series.

MARYLAND 26
NC STATE 20

COLLEGE PARK, Md (AP) -Maryland converted two consecutive turnovers into 14 third-quarter points, and the Terrapins held on to defeat North Carolina State

Maryland (5-2, 2-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) led 6-0 before a fumble recovery and an interception produced two quick touchdowns and a 20-point cushion.

NC State (3-4 2-2) used a long drive and a 65-yard punt return by Darrell Blackman to close to 23-13 with 8.18 left, but the comeback bid was blunted when Daniel Evans threw his second interception of the game

After Dan Ennis kicked his fourth field goal for Maryland, the Wolfpack used a 1-yard touchdown run by Toney Baker to get within six points with 58 seconds left But the Terrapins recovered the onside kick to secure the victory

Maryland's Sam Hollenbach went 7-for-9 for 115 yards and a touchdown, and Lance Ball ran for 77 yards and a score

The Wolfpack have been hurt by turnovers all season, and the same problem hindered their bid to beat Maryland for a third straight time. On the first play from scrimmage in the second half, NC State's Andre Brown fumbled when hit by Marcus Wimbush, who recovered at the Wolfpack 31.

After Hollenbach threw a 21-yard completion to Darnius Heyward-Bey, Josh Allen scored on a 5-yard pass to make it 13-0.

On the first play after the kickoff, Evans was intercepted by Erin Henderson at the NC State 24 Hollenbach promptly ran for 20 yards, setting up a 2-yard touchdown run by Ball with 10:07 left in the third quarter

NC State got on the board with a 14-play, 80-yard drive that ended in a 2-yard touchdown run by Brown But the conversion was blocked, and the Terrapins padded their lead on the ensuing possession, getting a 40-yard field goal for a 23-6 lead

Maryland backup running back Keon Lattimore had three catches for 72 yards and added 33 yards rushing in a first half dominated by the Terrapins

Held to one first down on its opening two possessions, Maryland moved 67 yards in 10 plays before Ennis kicked a 32-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead The key play was the first one, a 32-yard swing pass from Hollenbach to Lattimore.

The Terrapins started their next drive in identical fashion. This time, Lattimore took a short pass 34 yards to the Wolfpack 24 Five plays later, Ennis kicked a 27-yard field goal

NC State got only 25 yards passing in the first half and advanced into Maryland territory only once in five possessions

GAME 8

CHEVY CHASE BANK FIELD AT BYRD STADIUM COLLEGE PARK, MD. OCT. 28, 2006

MARYLAND 27
FLORIDA STATE 24

COLLEGE PARK, Md (AP) - Sam Hollenbach threw three touchdown passes, and Maryland held off Florida State to keep the Seminoles in the Atlantic Coast Conference cellar

Maryland led 27-14 in the third quarter, but was not assured the victory until Jeremy Navarre blocked a 46-yard field goal try by Gary Cismesia with 42 seconds left. It was the second time in three seasons that the Terrapins (6-2 3-1) beat the Seminoles (4-4, 2-4)

After the game, thousands of fans rushed the field to celebrate the win, which made the Terrapins eligible to receive a bowl bid

Florida State sophomore quarterback Drew Weatherford was a late scratch with tendinitis in his right foot, ending a run of 20 successive starts He was replaced by sophomore Xavier Lee

The short-handed Seminoles closed to 27-24 with 8:49 left when Cismesia kicked a 24-yard field goal after Lee completed a 55-yard pass to Chris Davis Florida State then forced a punt and took over at its own 15 with 5:30 to go

The Seminoles got to the Maryland 16, but a sack by David Holloway and an incomplete pass preceded the ill-fated field goal try by Cismesia A brisk wind with gusts of up to 40 mph affected with the kicking game

On the opening drive of the third quarter, FSU Coach Bobby Bowden decided against punting into the wind on a fourth-and-1 at midfield

Fullback Joe Surratt was stuffed by Navarre, and a personal foul against the Seminoles gave Maryland a first down on the FSU 33 On third down, Hollenbach threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to Darnius Heyward-Bey

It turned out to be the Terrapins' final score Lee then directed an 80-yard drive into the wind capping the march with a 17-yard touchdown pass to Davis

Hollenbach finished 9-for-16 for 113 yards He threw two touchdown passes in the first half to stake the Terrapins to a 20-14 lead

Maryland took advantage of a turnover to go up 7-0 in the first quarter After FSU receiver Greg Carr lost a fumble, Hollenbach capped a 48-yard drive with a 3-yard touchdown pass to Dan Gronkowski

After Antone Smith scored on a 9-yard run for FSU, Dan Ennis put Maryland back in front with a field goal The Terrapins then forced a punt, and Danny Oquendo returned the kick 35 yards, setting up a 5-yard touchdown catch by Heyward-Bey for a 17-7 lead

A 28-yard punt gave Maryland the ball at the Florida State 49, and the Terrapins converted the fine field position into another field goal

The Seminoles then closed to 20-14 when Carr made a leaping catch in the end zone with 53 seconds left in the half

CLEMSON MEMORIAL STADIUM
CLEMSON, S.C.
NOV. 4, 2006

MARYLAND	13
#19/19 CLEMSON	12

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) - Dan Ennis kicked a 31-yard field goal as time ran out, lifting Maryland to its fourth straight victory, a win over No. 19 Clemson that moved the Terrapins into a tie for first place in the Atlantic Division race.

The Terps (7-2, 4-1 ACC) used the same blueprint as Virginia Tech to keep Clemson's powerful running game in check. But it looked like it wouldn't matter after Jad Dean kicked his fourth field goal with 2:25 left to put the Tigers (7-3, 4-3) ahead 12-10.

But Sam Hollenbach drove Maryland 54 yards to Clemson's 12 - converting a fourth-and-inches with his sneak - to set up Ennis' game winner.

The Terps jumped and hugged Ennis in celebration. They had a lot to be happy about - the victory keeps them in the mix to represent the league's Atlantic Division in the championship game.

Maryland came into the weekend tied in the division with No. 16 Boston College and No. 22 Wake Forest. It remained on top with Wake Forest after the Demon Deacons' win over the Eagles later Saturday night.

Maryland's chances seemed slim after the Tigers got a key call overturned by the replay booth to help them take the lead.

Clemson trailed 10-9 midway through the final period when quarterback Will Proctor had the ball ripped from his hands at the end of a run near Clemson's 10. Tailback C.J. Spiller chased the ball back to the goal line and slid into the end zone as he collected it. When Maryland linebacker David Holloway fell on Spiller, officials gave Maryland a safety.

But after a lengthy review, Spiller was ruled down on Clemson's 1.

Two plays later, Proctor completed a 71-yard pass down the middle to tight end Thomas Hunter to Maryland's 28.

Clemson appeared to put the game away when James Davis rushed for a touchdown. That play, however, was nullified by an illegal procedure call and the Tigers settled for Dean's final kick.

For the second straight week, Clemson's powerful tailback tandem of Davis and Spiller was held in check. The two combined for 332 yards on the ground to beat Georgia Tech, a victory that lifted the Tigers into the top 10. In this one, Davis had 90 yards - he had a 42-yard run early in the game - and Spiller 41.

Hollenbach led the Terps, completing 23 of 34 passes for 247 yards. He hit on 11 straight throws during one stretch, including Maryland's only touchdown play - a 7-yard scoring pass to Danny Oquendo.

#23/24 MARYLAND	14
MIAMI	13

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sam Hollenbach connected with Darnius Heyward-Bey twice, including a school-record 96-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter, as the Maryland Terrapins outlasted the Miami Hurricanes.

The Terps (8-2, 5-1 ACC) maintained a share of first place in the ACC Atlantic Division following the win. Miami fell to 5-5, 2-4 in the conference.

With the win, Maryland became the first team in 21 seasons to defeat both the Hurricanes and the Florida State Seminoles in the same year, a feat last accomplished by the Florida Gators in 1985.

Despite only recording six first downs, the Terps staked an early 14-0 lead and the defense prevailed, with a key interception by Trey Covington on the Hurricanes' final drive. Although Miami forced a late punt, Isaiah Gardner swooped in to cause Bruce Johnson's fumble, which was recovered by J.J. Justice to seal the victory, Maryland's fifth in a row.

Hollenbach, who threw for over 200 yards for the second straight game, finished with 202 yards on 11-of-16 passing. Heyward-Bey eclipsed the century mark in receiving yards for the second time in his career, with five catches for 175 yards.

The duo connected on the Terps' then-longest play of the season, a 65-yard strike for the opening touchdown with 11:45 remaining in the first quarter. It was the first time Maryland had scored a touchdown on its opening possession since Middle Tennessee on September 9.

However, they eclipsed both the season and all-time marks with the 96-yarder down the right sideline in the second quarter. The play broke the previous record of 92 yards (Stan Levine to Ed Bolton vs. South Carolina), a mark that stood for 57 seasons. In addition, it was the longest play ever given up by the Miami defense in that school's history.

Meanwhile, the Maryland defensive effort was led by linebackers Wesley Jefferson and Erin Henderson, who notched 14 and 13 tackles, respectively. Cornerback Josh Wilson had five pass breakups in the game, including one midway through the fourth quarter which stopped a potential scoring drive for Miami.

Both teams played with great emotion following a pre-game moment of silence and tribute to Hurricanes senior defensive tackle Bryan Pata, who was shot and killed earlier this week.

#20/20 BOSTON COLLEGE 38
#21/21 MARYLAND 16

BOSTON (AP) - Boston College led 14-0 in the first four minutes on Jolonn Dunbar's returns of 14 and 38 yards before Matt Ryan threw two scoring passes in a win over 21st-ranked Maryland on Saturday

Any hopes for a comeback were dashed by two more Terrapin turnovers - a 42-yard interception return for a touchdown by DeJuan Tribble and an interception in the end zone by Jamie Silva after Maryland reached the 4-yard line early in the fourth quarter.

The loss ended Maryland's five-game winning streak.

On the second play from scrimmage, Danny Oquendo took a pitchout to the left from quarterback Sam Hollenbach and was blasted by Larry Anam. Oquendo fumbled, Hollenbach slid for the ball but it squirted toward Maryland's end zone, and Dunbar scooped it up and ran for the touchdown just 42 seconds into the game.

On the fifth play of the next series, Hollenbach tried a pitch to the other side with similar results. Lance Ball fumbled and Dunbar was there again, grabbing the ball and racing untouched into the end zone.

Ryan finally got in the game with 6:36 left in the first quarter and threw a 21-yard completion to Tony Gonzalez on his first play. That series ended with a missed 42-yard field goal attempt by Steve Aponavicius. Maryland scored midway through the second quarter on the first of Dan Ennis' three field goals, a 29-yarder.

Then Ryan led BC to touchdowns on a 34-yard pass to Gonzalez and a 17-yarder to Brandon Robinson for a 28-3 lead. On those two series, Ryan completed 9 of 12 passes for 140 yards.

Ennis' 37-yard field goal on the last play of the half and his 46-yarder cut the lead to 28-9. After Tribble's interception, Maryland scored its only touchdown on Josh Allen's 9-yard option pass to Oquendo.

The Terrapins had a chance to get within two scores early in the fourth quarter, but Hollenbach's pass was intercepted in the end zone by Jamie Silva

They also had a first-and-goal from the 5-yard-line later in the quarter, but turned the ball over on downs.

#20/20 WAKE FOREST 38
MARYLAND 24

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Kenneth Moore ran for 165 yards and a touchdown, Kevin Harris scored twice, and freshman quarterback Riley Skinner went 10-for-13 for 125 yards and a touchdown for No. 20 Wake Forest, which became the first ACC team in history to go 6-0 on the road with a victory over Maryland

Wake Forest handed Maryland (8-4, 5-3) its first home loss of the season.

It was Wake Forest's first win in eight tries against Maryland since 1998. The Demon Deacons were 13-40-1 against the Terrapins all-time.

Wake Forest went up 28-14 with an 80-yard touchdown drive to start the second half. Moore had runs of 15 and 23 yards and Skinner went 3-for-3 for 35 yards before Harris scored from the 3.

Maryland's Keon Lattimore then accounted for all the yardage in a 49-yard drive that produced a 26-yard field goal by Dan Ennis, but the Deacons answered with a field goal to restore the 14-point cushion.

Maryland closed to 31-24 when Sam Hollenbach threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Isaiah Williams with 12:54 left. But Wake Forest responded with a 10-play, 76-yard drive that ended with a 1-yard touchdown run by Rich Belton on a fourth-down play.

Lattimore rushed for 119 yards and a touchdown, only the third player to reach the 100-yard mark against the Demon Deacons this season. Hollenbach was 14-for-26 for 125 yards, but threw three interceptions.

Wake Forest yielded 215 yards in the first half, but benefited from turnovers in taking a 21-14 lead.

The final game of a crazy ACC regular season matched two of the league's most surprising teams in a duel for the Atlantic Division title.

Both teams scored touchdowns on their opening drives. Lattimore ran in from the 12 before Harris concluded a 13-play possession with a 2-yard run.

Next came an exchange of turnovers. After Riley Swanson took an interception 30 yards to the Maryland 16, an apparent touchdown run by Moore was erased by a holding call. On the next play, Skinner threw his first interception on the road. A 19-yard touchdown run by Moore made it 14-7 early in the second quarter.

The Terrapins' next two drives ended in interceptions by Alphonso Smith. After the latter turnover, Skinner threw a 49-yard touchdown pass to Willie Idlette for a 21-7 lead.

Maryland then got a 1-yard touchdown run by Lance Ball.

Despite the loss, the Terps still posted their fourth eight-win regular-season over the last six years. They'll have a chance to win nine games for only the 13th time in school history in a bowl game.

MARYLAND 20 GEORGIA 20

In front of the first capacity crowd in Gator Bowl history, 16,666, Maryland's Lu Gambino was a one-man wrecking crew, rushing for 165 yards and scoring three touchdowns. Gambino's three scores propelled Maryland to a 20-7 lead, but Georgia reeled off 13 points in the fourth quarter to tie the game. The Bulldogs threatened to win the game in the closing seconds, but time ran out with Georgia on Maryland's four-yard line. Despite the tie, there was no question as to the game's most valuable player. Gambino won the Burkhalter Award, signifying the game's outstanding performer. Gambino was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame in 1992.

Three times in the first half Missouri turned the ball over, and all three times Maryland scored a touchdown as the Terrapins defeated the Tigers, 20-7, to earn their first-ever postseason victory. The Terrapin running attack, led by Bob Shemonski and Ed Modzelewski, amassed 266 rushing yards, the second-most by a Maryland bowl team. Maryland defensive back John Idzik set up Maryland's first score with a 26-yard interception return to the Tiger 11-yard line. Shemonski scored on a sweep on the next play for the go-ahead touchdown. Shemonski scored again on a six-yard run late in the second quarter to put the Terps up 20-0.

In what may have been perhaps the biggest win in Maryland football history, the Terps upset No. 1-ranked and regular season national champion Tennessee, 28-13, in the 1952 Sugar Bowl. The Terps were led by running back Ed "Mighty Mo" Modzelewski (153 yards on 28 carries) and the brilliant play of running back/defensive back Ed Fullerton who scored two touchdowns and threw for another. The Terps put the game out of reach in the third quarter with a 46-yard interception for a touchdown by Fullerton, giving the Terps a 28-6 lead. Maryland finished the season with an overall record of 10-0-0 and a No. 3 national ranking.

This was the first game of the contract that pitted the Big Eight Conference champion against the Atlantic Coast Conference champion. The Terrapins took an undefeated season and the nation's No. 1 ranking into the game against an Oklahoma squad that used a powerful running attack to grind out a second quarter touchdown to propel the Sooners to a 7-0 win. Twice the Terps had first down opportunities with the ball inside the 10-yard line and failed to come away with any points. Despite the narrow loss, the Terrapins claimed the 1953 national championship.

Maryland came away from its first bowl game in 18 years a bitterly disappointed team. The Terrapins dominated Georgia in all phases, but the game was tied 10-10 at the half thanks to a couple of big plays by the Bulldogs. The ACC champion Terrapins headed into the 1975 Gator Bowl as a seven-point underdog to the Florida Gators. However, this did not deter the Terps, who were coming off their best season (8-2-1) in 20 years. Maryland shut out the Gators, 13-0, in front of a large pro-Florida crowd in a steady downpour. Maryland's Charlie Wysocki rushed for 159 yards and a touchdown, but it was not enough to overcome the passing attack of the Gators' Wayne Peace, who threw for 271 yards and two touchdowns. Peace's favorite receiver, Cris Collinsworth, caught eight passes for 166 yards, including a 21-yard touchdown catch that led to Florida's 28-20 lead. Maryland's Dale Castro tied a Tangerine Bowl record and established a new Terrapin bowl record when he booted his fourth field goal in the third quarter.

Maryland and Washington made sure the fans who went to the inaugural Aloha Bowl got their money's worth. The Huskies' touchdown with :06 left secured Washington's come-from-behind, 21-20 victory. The Terps had a chance to go up by nine points with 3:39 left to play, but Jess Atkinson's 32-yard field goal attempt fell short. The Terps had fallen behind 14-6 in the first half and Boomer Esiason completed 10 passes for 120 yards and a touchdown in the third quarter, sparking Maryland to a 20-14 lead early in the fourth.

Tennessee scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to overcome a 20-16 deficit and defeat the Terps, 30-23, in the 1983 Citrus Bowl. Maryland took a four-point lead into the fourth quarter, thanks to outstanding play from reserve quarterback Frank Reich. Reich entered the game in the second quarter when starter Boomer Esiason suffered a shoulder injury. Reich's one mistake of the day, an interception early in the fourth quarter, set the Vols on Maryland's 14-yard line which led to a Tennessee touchdown run that was the difference.

The Maryland Terrapins were truly the comeback team of 1984. Maryland trailed Tennessee 21-0 at halftime and erupted for a Terrapin bowl record 22 points in the third quarter. Frank Reich's third-quarter touchdown pass to Ferrell Edmunds put the Terps up 22-21, but the ensuing kickoff was returned for a touchdown by the Volunteers to give them a 27-22 lead. Then with 8:03 left to play, the Terps' offense pounded out a 5:05 drive that was capped by a one-yard scoring run by Rick Badanjek for the game-winning touchdown.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY.

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 33 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2005 enrollment was 25,442 undergraduate and 9,927 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 15 a mong the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 3 in value for money, No. 6 overall among U.S. public business schools and No. 12 in placement rate.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) and the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

LIBRARIES

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

RESEARCH

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

SERVICE

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center in 2001, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

UNIVERSITY OF 18 56 MARYLAND ™

PRESIDENT C.D. MOTE JR.

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 13th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought steady and continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 13 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 14 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored recently by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame, the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame and the University of Maryland Sports Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 12 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the-10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $52 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable four national championships during the 2005-06 academic season.
- In 2005-2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Graduation rates in football are near 80 percent and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only two universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford is the only other NCAA Division I institution to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,243 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past four seasons.
- Field Hockey won back-to-back National Championships in 2005 and 2006, proving Maryland to be one of the top programs in the nation.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Men's Soccer has appeared in four consecutive Final Fours and won the NCAA National Championship in the 2005-06 season.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2005-06, 13 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 12 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University – Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."
